Geltz Communications Principal to Present Paper at Utilities Communicators International Conference

PASADENA, CA, December 2006: Christine Geltz, principal of Pasadena-based Geltz Communications, will present a paper to the 2006 Utilities Communicators International (UCI) Professional Development Conference in San Diego, January 26-27, 2006.

The UCI's annual conference will provide best practices in communicating energy efficiency. Geltz's presentation, "Look Who's Talking! Surfing All your Communication Channels for High-Yield Results," will explore how inter-company communication and cooperation can create a win-win scenario for energy efficiency programs.

Currently, UCI has more than 300 members in the U.S., Canada, the Caribbean, the United Kingdom and Mexico.

Founded in 1990, Geltz Communications is a marketing communications firm specializing in the energy and water efficiency and conservation industry for investor-owned utilities, municipal utilities and non-utility programs.
